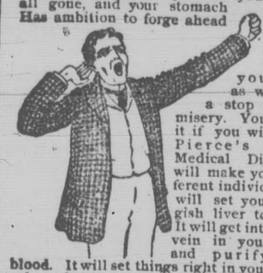
"Do you believe in marrying a girl for her money?"

"Not as a general thing, but sometimes that's the only way you can get it away from her.'

A man who is a friend only to himself has but few friends.

DO YOU FEEL THIS WAY.

Do you feel all tired out? Do you sometimes think you just can't work away at your profession or trade any longer? Do you have a poor appetite, and lay awake at nights unable to sleep? Are your nerves all gone, and your stomach too? Has ambition to forge ahead in the world left you? If so, you might as well put a stop to your misery. You can do it if you will. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will make you a different individual. It will set your sluggish liver to work. It will get into every vein in your body and purify your blood. It will set things right in your stomach, and your appetite will come back. If there is any tendency in your family toward consumption, it will keep that dread destroyer away. Even after consumption has almost gained a foothold in the form of a lingering cough, bronchitis, or bleeding at the lungs, it will bring about speedy cure in 98 per cent. of all cases. It is a remedy prepared by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., whose advice is given free to all who wish to write him. His great success has come from his wide experience and varied practice.



O. S. Copenhaver, Esq., of Mount Union, Huntingdon Co., Pa. (Box 222), writes: "About twelve years ago I was suddenly taken with a pain in the pit of the stomach which was so violent I could not walk straight. It would grow more severe until it caused waterbrash and vomiting of a slimy yellow water. A physician told me I had a form of dyspepsia and treated me for about six months with but little benefit. Another physician told me my liver was out of order and that I had indigestion. He gave me a treatment and I got some better but only for a short time. I then tried another one, who said I had chronic indigestion, ulceration of the lining of the stomach, torpid liver and kidney affection. He treated me for more than a year and I felt much better, but it did not last. I then took to using several widely advertised patent medicines, but received no more than temporary relief. I then tried Dr. Pierce's medicines, using his 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and the 'Pleasant Pellets,' and in two months' time I was feeling better than I had for years before."

Don't be wheedled by a penny-grabbing dealer into taking inferior substitutes for Dr. Pierce's medicines, recommended to be "just as good."

Romance of a Song.

"I'll Hang My Harp on a Willow Tree" has attached to it a bit of royal romance. It was written by a young nobleman who became deeply enamored of Queen Victoria a year or so before she ascended the English throne, which event destroyed his hopes of winning her hand. The words first appeared in an English magazine and were set to music by Wellington Guernsey.

BEQUESTS OF HEARTS.

The Dying Wish of Bruce and the Fate of Douglas.

Bequests of hearts have been by no means uncommon. Richard Coeur de Lion bequeathed his heart to the canons of Rouen cathedral, and in July, 1838, this remarkable relic was once again brought to light after the lapse of six centuries. The heart, which is said to have been surprisingly large, was inclosed in boxes of lead and silver and withered, as it was described, to the semblance of a faded leaf.

Bruce's heart was by his dying wish intrusted to Douglas to fulfill a vow which he had been unable to execute in person of visiting the sepulcher of Christ. Douglas, "tender and true," promised to fulfill his sovereign's last request and after Bruce's death, having received the heart incased in a casket of gold, set forth upon his mission. Proceeding to Spain, however, he fell in the thick of a fight with the Moors, having previous to his final charge cast the heart of Bruce from his breast, when he carried it into the ranks of the infidels, crying, "Onward as thou wert wont; Douglas will follow thee!" Bruce's heart was afterward recovered by Sir Simon Lockhart, by whom it was brought to Scotland and buried along with the bones of Douglas in the abbey of Melrose. When the remains of Bruce were disinterred at Dunfermline in 1819 the breastbone was found sawed through so as to permit of the removal of the heart.

DIED WITH HIS CHUM.

A Deed of Heroism That Stirred an Entire Army.

In the reminiscences of General Sir Evelyn Wood, himself a brave English soldier, a touching instance of courage and self sacrifice is given. One June day in 1885 a detachment of English marines was crossing the Woronzow road under fire from the Russian batteries. All of the men reached shelter in the trenches except a seaman, John Blewitt. As he was running a terrific roar was heard. His mates knew the voice of a huge cannon, the terror of the army, and yelled:

"Look out! It is Whistling Dick!"

But at the moment Blewitt was struck by the enormous mass of iron on the knees and thrown to the ground. He called to his special chum:

"Oh, Welch, save me!"

The fuse was hissing, but Stephen Welch ran out of the trenches and, seizing the great shell, tried to roll it off his comrade.

It exploded with such terrific force that not an atom of the bodies of Blewitt and Welch was found. Even in that time when each hour had its excitement this deed of heroism stirred the whole English army. One of the officers searched out Welch's old mother in her poor home and undertook her support while she lived, and the story of his death helped his comrades to nobler conceptions of a soldier's duty.

The Lavish Jenkins.

In October, 1886, a religiously minded Buckinghamshire farmer named Jenkins brought his firstborn to the parish church to be christened, and this was to be the name: Abel Benjamin Caleb Daniel Ezra Felix Gabriel Haggai Isaac Jacob Kish Levi Manoah Nehemiah Obdiah Peter Quartus Rechab Samuel Tobiah Uzziel Vaniah Word Xystus Zechariah. It will be observed that the names are all arranged in alphabetical order and are as far as possible selected from Scripture. It was only with the very greatest difficulty that the clergyman dissuaded Mr. Jenkins from doing the lasting wrong to his child that he had unwittingly devised, but eventually it was decided to christen the boy simply Abel.—Chambers' Journal.

This adds double strength to the institution and the confidence of the public is daily shown by the numerous new accounts that are being opened, for which the management is very thankful.

Litigation Ended.

The litigation between the county and H. May Pearsall and others who are associated in the reclamation of marsh land between this city and Belmont came to an end in the Superior Court Tuesday of last week, after a brief trial, when it was stipulated by the defendants that Phelps creek is to be forever left free and unobstructed and that the dam recently built across that slough will be removed. The terms of settlement were acceptable to the county's attorney and were entered as a judgment by the Court and the case concluded.

STATE TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

This Was the Largest Meeting Ever Held in the State.

Considerable Attention Was Given to Commercial Education in the Public Schools.

By Principal S. P. McCrea

I have just returned from an attendance at the third annual meeting of the teachers of California. This meeting excels any before held in the numbers of teachers in attendance, and in the breadth of the work attempted. In this meeting were invited the teachers of five cities and of sixteen counties. The 3000 teachers in attendance found work to interest them in some of the twenty-one organizations into which the Association was divided.

Miss Howard found interesting work in the classical department, in the Association of Teachers of Germany, and in the High School Association.

Miss Bristol was on duty to read a paper before the English Department on "What I Do, How I Do It, and Why" as to teaching composition. Being unable to attend because of sickness her paper was forwarded to be presented before the large number of high school teachers engaged in teaching English.

Mr. Hennings divided his time between the Department of Mathematics, the Pacific Coast Association of Chemistry and Physics Teachers, and the sessions of the High School Association.

The principal presented a paper before the newly organized Commercial Department on "The Aim of Commercial Course in the High School." Already eighty-six California high schools have provided commercial work, and in forty-three of them separate commercial teachers are employed. More attention was given to the subject of commercial education at this teachers' meeting than any I ever attended. It was made plain that but six per cent. of California high school pupils enter college, and yet our courses are almost entirely planned for their convenience, while the needs of the other four per cent are often overlooked. The chairman of the Commercial Department was authorized to appoint a committee of five to prepare a commercial course for California High Schools to be presented at the next meeting. More than 200 teachers are already employed in the commercial work in California High Schools, and they will no doubt organize a large and influential department of the High School Association.

Three men of national reputation were brought from the East to lecture before the Association:

Dr. A. C. True of Washington, D. C., Director of the U. S. Experiment Stations, lectured on Agricultural Education as applied to all classes of schools.

L. D. Harvey, Superintendent of the Stout Training School of Menomee, Wisconsin, told of the success of that institution, which is a fine type of the successful agricultural high school. This school, like the Lick and Wilmerding schools of San Francisco, was endowed by a public-minded citizen. Already the State of Wisconsin is providing others like it. California has one such school located at San Luis Obispo There is need for a dozen such schools in this great State however.

Dr. A. E. Winship, editor of the Journal of Education of Boston, lectured on a number of topics, and took a prominent part in discussions. One of his best lectures was on "The Schools as a Public Investment", from which I wish to make a few quotations as they bear on education in Redwood as well as in Boston:

"Boys are a city's greatest asset. You take, for example, in the city of San Francisco there are three classes of men who have received public school education. First there are those who have attended school three years; secondly, those who went to school for eight years, and, lastly, those who have studied for twelve years. You will find after an investigation that those who attended school for eight years are paying double the taxes into the city treasury as those who only went to school for three years. This fact has been thoroughly demonstrated in the Eastern States, and cities such as Boston have come to the conclusion that by giving the boys of their city a good education the city and the treasury are both enrich by the move.

"To spend a great deal of money in public schools is not an expenditure, but a good solid investment. In Boston there was a minister who was so liked by his congregation that they offered him a salary of $15,000 a year for a five-year contract if he would remain with them. He promised to sign the contract on one condition and that was that the teachers of the Sunday school connected with his church should receive a salary of $3 a Sunday. After a deal of argument his parishioners consented. This minister fully saw that for the future success of the church the children had to be educated and interested in religion.

"Children taught drawing, when they grow older and own their own homes, have an eye for the artistic in their homes and buy furniture and bric-a-brac that help the stores. The children that learn gardening when they grow up buy homes in the suburbs, where they can have small gardens and in that way improve property. There are a thousand reasons why money spent in educating children is a good investment to a city."

DEATH OF A PIONEER WOMAN

Mrs. Mary Stafford Passed Away at Her Home on Saturday.

Late Saturday evening last Mrs. Mary Stafford, one of the oldest and best beloved residents of Redwood City, passed to her eternal home after an illness of only a month.

She was the wife of the late James Stafford, the well-known merchant, who preceded his wife to the grave two years ago. Deceased was a native of Ireland, aged 68 years and 10 months. She came to Redwood City in the fifties and has resided here ever since, and has seen the town grow from a village to its present condition.

Mrs. Stafford endeared herself to all by her kindness of heart and unostentatious charity. She was best beloved by her neighbors who knew her most.

The funeral took place Tuesday morning from her late residence on Arguella street, thence to the Catholic Church where a solomn requeim Mass was celebrated. Father White paid a brilliant tribute to the deceased for her many virtues and religious fervor.

The following old friends acted as pall-bearers: Judge Buck, Matthew Hedge, John Hanly, John Curran, Charles Gould and Henry Kreig.

The remsins were borne, followed by a large number of friends to Holy Cross Cemetery, Menlo Park, where they were tenderly laid beside of those of her husband.

The deceased leaves to mourn her four sons and one daughter—James, Daniel, George and Dr. David E. Stafford and Mrs. Mary Gilbert.

Applied for Letters.

Jennie R. Hamilton has applied in the Superior Court for letters of administration upon the estate of her late husband, James A. Hamilton, who died on December 6, 1905. The estate consists of a one-half undivided interest in the Butano Mill property near Pescadero. The business therewith is estimated to be worth $5,000. The petition recites that the estate does not exceed the sum of $10,000.

Bryant.

Bryant always thought he could write much better poetry than that contained in his "Thanatopsis," which was one of his earliest. During his later days he on several occasions expressed some surprise at the preference shown by his admirers for this particular poem, "when I have done so many things better." He believed the translations of Homer to be the best work he ever did.

Afternoon Session.

The board reconvened at 1:30 pursuant to adjournment during the morning session. All the members answered roll call.

The following communication from S. Franklin was read, asking for a transfer of her liquor license from Colma to Long Bridge, near Pescadero. Coburn said there would be opposition to a saloon there and urged that no action be taken on the petition. On motion of Coburn seconded by Debenedetti the matter was deferred for two weeks:

To the honorable Board of Supervisors of the County San Mateo, State of California—Gentlemen: The undersigned, the holder of a retail liquor license and permit, authorizing the carrying on of a retail liquor business at what is known and called "Walls", in the First Township of said County of San Mateo, near Colma, respectfully asks your honorable board for permission to change the place of business for which said license was issued, to a building located on the "Easterday" property, near what is known as "Long Bridge," in the Fifth Township of said County of San Mateo.

Your petitioner gives the following reason for said transfer: That she has acquired an interest in the property to which the transfer is desired, and intends to remove her effects and belongings to said property, and to reside thereon. She therefore respectfully asks that a permit so to do may be granted by your honorable board. S. FRANKLIN.

May George of Pescadero petitioned the board for support of her half-orphan child, Louise George. On motion of Coburn seconded by Eikerenkotter the applicant was allowed $7 per month. The State will refund to the county the money so allowed.

M. C. Amaral of Woodside was on motion of MacBain seconded by Eikerenkotter allowed $8 per month for the support of her two half-orphan children.

Marie Mattil was on motion of Eikerenkotter seconded by MacBain allowed $8 per month for her four half-orphan children.

Attorney Gill of Vallejo, on behalf of A. G. Stoll of San Francisco, presented a petition asking for a franchise to lay water mains for the purpose of furnishing the town of Halfmoon Bay with water.

Debenedetti explained that the granting of such a franchise was of grave importance and that the matter should be thoroughly considered before any action be taken. He further said, that Half moon Bay already had a good water supply. On motion of Debenedetti seconded by Coburn the petition was laid over until February 5th.

Senator Louis Oneal of San Jose, on behalf of the Peninsula Railroad Company, presented a petition for a franchise to construct and operate an electric railway along the Middlefield road to the limits of Redwood City, and along the County road from the northern limits of Redwood City to San Carlos.

Besides Attorney Oneal, the president of the company, A. O. Hale, and General Manager F. E. Chapin were present.

Mr. Oneal addressed the board, setting forth what the company desired at its hands, and presented the following formal petition for a franchise:

"To the Honorable, the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo, State of California: The undersigned, the Peninsular Railroad Company (a corporation) hereby petitions your honorable body and respectfully shows—

"That your petitioner is a railroad corporation, duly incorporated and existing under the laws of the state of California, for the purpose, among other things, of constructing and operating a standard gauge (double or single track) commercial railroad from the city of San Jose, county of Santa Clara, state of California, through and along the westerly side of the Santa Clara valley to and into the city and county of San Francisco, with a branch or intermediate line starting from the most convenient point on the main line hereinbefore mentioned and running through the towns of Mayfield, Palo Alto, Redwood City and San Carlos.

"That in order to construct its said railroad hereinbefore described, as well as in order to facilitate and accommodate the business of the people of the county of San Mateo and the other counties hereinbefore mentioned, it is desirable to grant to the petitioner herein a franchise for a double or single track, standard gauge, electric railroad with the necessary curves, sidetracks, switches, cross-overs and turn-outs for the term of fifty (50) years, with the right to use electric power over the hereinafter described public streets and highways of the said county of San Mateo, the character and center line of which is described as follows, to-wit:

"Beginning at a point where the center line of Phelps street—the said Phelps street being the prolongation of the Middlefield road—intersects the southeasterly boundary line of the town of Redwood City, and connecting with the tracks of any electric railroad that may be hereafter built over and along said Phelps street to said point of beginning, and running thence southeasterly and along the said center line of the said Middlefield road a distance of three and one-half miles, more or less, to the point of intersection of said Middlefield road with the southerly boundary line of the county of San Mateo; provided, that the center line of said double tracks shall be uniformly distant six feet and six inches, respectively, from the actual center line of said Middlefield road.

"Your petitioner, therefore, prays that your honorable body will advertise for sale a franchise for a double or single track, standard gauge, electric railroad with the necessary curves, sidetracks, switches, cross-overs and turn-outs for the term of fifty (50) years, with the right to use electric power, over and along the hereinbefore described public streets and highways of said county of San Mateo."

MacBain explained that he would like to see the road constructed, but as the granting of the franchise was a matter of importance he thought the petition should be thoroughly considered. He believed there ewould be opposition the petition in his district and it would be well to let the objectors have a hearing before the board.

On motion of Coburn seconded by Debenedetti the petition was laid over for one month.

A communication was read from Mr. Warner of San Francisco objecting to the raising of the grade of a certain street near the county line in the First Township. On motion of Eikerenkotter seconded by MacBain the communication was ordered filed.

Mr. Smith presented a map of Salada Beach, near Salt Lake, San Pedro Valley, and owned by the Ocean Shore Land Co. The tract contains 160 acres.

On motion of Eikerenkotter seconded by MacBain the following resolution was adopted dedicating the streets delineated on the map to public use:

Frank Crichett presented a map of Farallone City, in the Halfmoon Bay Colony tract, owned by J. H. Goldman.

On motion of Debenedetti seconded by Eikerenkotter the usual resolution was adopted dedicating the streets delineated on the map to public use.

MENLO PARK OCCURRENCES

Paragraphs, Personal and Otherwise, From the Village of Beautiful Homes.

The Construction of an Electric Railway in This Locality is Leading Topic.

Kenneth and Dorothy McIntyre have just recover from an attack of pneumonia.

Miss Augusta Tuttle who has been visiting friends at her girlhood home in Siskiyou County far the past three months has returned.

Frank Commerford, blacksmith, has resigned his position at E. L. Taylor's, and has secured a similar position at Palo Alto.

Miss Bessie Fitzgerald has entered St. Vincent's convent, San Francisco, for a course of study. She will return every evening.

J. E. Maloney is preparing to buy a number of up-to-date rigs, stylish harness, and several head of horses for his spring business.

It is reported that Captain Maynard of San Francisco has purchased ten acres opposite the Captain Boles place on Santa Cruz avenue.

Several Eastern people were here during the week looking for suitable home sites. Never in the history of Menlo Park has there been so many inquiries for property.

A force of surveyors were surveying on the Middlefield road this week for the Peninsula Railroad Company that is to construct an electric road from San Jose to San Francisco.

New Year's night Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Doyle had a family reunion; all the members of the family being present at a sumptuous supper.

Constable Cronk has appointed John D. Felix, proprietor of the Pioneer stables, a deputy in and for Menlo Park. Mr. Felix has all the qualities to make a good officer.

Matthew Crowe has been quite ill during the week from heart trouble. His numerous friends hope he will soon recover. Mr. Crowe is one of the best known farmers in the county.

Dr. Wilson of San Francisco has purchased from Attorney Pringle a portion of his property at Fair Oaks on which he will erect a handsome home early in the Spring.

The Native Sons dance on Friday evening, January 19th is to be the best of the season. All members are bending every effort to make an event long to be remembered by the parlor. Excellent music has been secured for the occasion.

Last Saturday night some unknown person broke into Patrick Lenehan's saloon and took $6 in nickels and 70 cents in dimes, a quantity of whisky and a large number of cigars. The officers were notified, but having no clue to work on have been unable to apprehend the culprit.

A well-known coachman living at Fair Oaks had an experience on Tuesday that he will not soon forget. He was sent by his employer to the depot with a trunk to be shipped on the noon train to San Francisco. He left it near the edge of the track to be taken by the baggage-man. The overland train came along shortly after and struck the trunk scattering its contents alway from Fair Oaks to Redwood City. Articles worth $200 were in the trunk.

William Long, the section foreman, had a novel experience with tramps last Tuesday. After giving information to two of them as to the nearest route to Santa Cruz he absented himself for a moment and on returning discovered that the men had purloined his lunch and were scampering up the track with it. He followed on a track-cycle and overtook the culprits at the San Francisquito bridge. On seeing the irate Long in hot pursuit the culprits dropped the basket and took to their heels.

The people here are elated over the prospect of the construction of an electric railway. While it would be better to have it go through town rather than on the Middlefield road yet it will be the means of bringing people here and developing this part of the county. It is rumored that there will be some opposition to the road in certain quarters and that an attempt will be made to stop the construction. It is to be hoped this is a mere idle rumor and that no opposition will develop to prevent the construction of the line that is so badly needed.

Menlo Parlor, N. S. G. W. is making elaborate preparations for the joint installation of its members and those of Bonita Parlor, N. D. G. W., of Redwood City on Thursday evening, January 11th. After the ceremonies a grand ball and banquet will take place. Several grand officers will be present. The committee of arrangements, J. E. Fitzgerald, F. W. Johnson and Grant Fromhertz, are putting forth every effort to make the affair a great social success. Members from all parlors of the valley will be present besides many from San Jose and San Francisco.

At the rectory of St. John's Lutheran church, Tacoma, Miss Henrietta Fisher was married Tuesday evening to Charles M. Weller, a former resident of Tacoma now living at Wallace, Idaho. The wedding was extremely simple, no one being present but the officiating clergyman, Rev. C. F. W. Stoever, Mrs. Stoever and the attendants, Miss Alice Raub, and Adolph B. Goetz. Mr. and Mrs. Weller are spending the holidays in Tacoma, and will leave next week for Idaho. Following the ceremony at the rectory, a reception was given by the bridal party at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Goetz. Miss Fisher formerly resided here and is well known.

PLANT TREES.

WOODSIDE, Cal., Dec. 30, 1905.

Editor Times Gazette—Dear Sir: Plant trees; why not? Get the community interested to the extent of planting each side of the road, from say Five Points to Woodside. If an enterprising nurseryman will interest himself in the matter he can count on me for one hundred dollars. They will not only be an ornament but will prevent the dust. I am satisfied that the thing can be accomplished if some good nurseryman will take hold of it—one who will give the trees his attention after they are planted and one who will take a personal interest in the matter and be satisfied with a fair profit. Such a one could not have a better advertisement in his business. I know there are many up our way (Woodside) who will cheerfully subscribe.

Yours, CHARLES JOSSELYN.

Funerals in the Highlands.

A Scottish correspondent writes of funerals in the highlands: "There are no undertakers here. A carpenter makes the simple coffin, relatives and friends carry it, hip high, to its last resting place, which is dug when the end of the journey is reached, and having walked perhaps six miles to the chosen kirkyard, they take a refreshment of sandwiches and whisky and walk home again. The rigorous absence of pomp is maintained, but there is the added embellishment of pipe music."

THE MUSSULMAN.

His Devotion Is Intense and He Is Proud of His Religion.

A traveler in Africa writes: "This is a land of religion. The Mussulman's devotion is intense, ever present and all pervading, being not an accessory tacked on, as it were, to his life to be practiced more or less surreptitiously, but an essential part, wherewith and wherein he lives at all times. A Mussulman prays openly and publicly, in nowise afraid to be seen. Every man wears his string of beads whereon he records the number of his daily prayers. Notwithstanding its, to us, uninviting appearance, the religion has made and still is making great strides in Africa, and one can only attribute this to the fact that here at last is a religion of which its adherents are in no way ashamed. It offers to the faithful absolute assurance of salvation and engenders that blind, unhesitating faith therein which is so comforting to the native mind.

"Seeing a crowd of pilgrims bound for Mecca patiently—nay, with pleasure—enduring the worst treatment that one could imagine meted out to herds of driven slaves, one envies the excess of faith that can engender such a disposition. Though robbed, slain, starved, herded with pestilence and subjected to countless hardships and annoyances, yet year after year they come from far and near thousands and tens of thousands strong on this the most wonderful and far reaching of latter day pilgrimages.

"At Jedda one sees pilgrims from all corners of the globe—Dutch subjects from Java, Chinese from Peking, shiploads from India and Farther India, Russian subjects from all parts of the great empire, French subjects from Algiers, from Morocco, and dusky negroes who have tramped for months from the western shores of Africa. Through many lands and midst many tongues they come, all to meet at this thronged center of the maelstrom of the Mussulman faith."

GREEK ATHLETES.

The Way They Ran and the Style of Track They Used.

"In the foot races of the ancient Greeks," says a writer, "the shape of the stadium caused a great difference, since it was not circular, but long and narrow, with one or both ends semicircular. Consequently the runners had to take a sharp turn at the end of each lap, while except at the turn they were running a straight course. Evidently this turn needed much practice, for the pictures on the old vases show athletes practicing this one part of the race as a kind of drill, taking each movement separately.

"In early times, when all the runners turned round the same post, the turn gave opportunities for foul play, and there are stories of one competitor tripping another at the post or seizing him by the hair to prevent his winning. But later, in the shorter distances at least, each runner had his own track and post to turn round, and probably the separate courses were roped off in much the same way as they are now in sprint races. For the start elaborate arrangements were made and at Olympia the stone slabs are still to be seen, with the grooves at regular intervals that had to be toed at starting.

"Greek long distance men ran in the most approved style of the present day. But the sprinters apparently employed a considerable amount of arm action and took very long steps, rising well on to the toes. Then there was the race in armor, an event highly praised by several of the Greek writers as a valuable preparation for war and which is supposed to explain the famous running charge of the Athenians at Marathon."

A Literary Coincidence.

"My father, W. Clark Russell," said Herbert Russell in telling of a literary coincidence, "had finished maturing the plot of his novel, 'The Death Ship,' which is a version of the legend of Vanderdecken. I was his amanuensis at the time. He said to me, 'Tomorrow we will begin the story.' On the following morning when I entered his study to take his dictation of the opening lines he showed me a letter he had just received. It was from W. S. Gilbert, the well known dramatist, asking him why he did not write a novel about the Flying Dutchman."

Stockings of Human Hair.

They were black stockings, thick, stiff, lustrous, and the price mark on them was $15.

"From China," said the dealer—"from northern China. Every family has a few pairs of human hair stockings there. They are worn over the cotton stockings—they are too prickly to be worn next the skin—and, properly treated, they last a lifetime. The Chinese exporter who sold me these stockings said that when a child's hair is shaved in northern China the hair is preserved in a special hair box of lacquer. As soon as the box is full enough the hair is taken from it, and a pair of stockings is woven. Such stockings have a sentimental, almost a religious value, and they are rarely parted with. It would be safe to bet that there are not six other pairs of hair stockings on sale in America."—New York Press.
